

CLAIM

1. A method of treating a patient suffering from aphthous, said method comprising orally applying to said aphthous a composition consisting essentially of a steroid and an inhibitor of TNF- α .